Welcome Message

Dear Ventilation Enthusiasts,

It gives us great pleasure to invite you to the 4th Asian Pediatric Mechanical Ventilation Forum, organized by the Pediatric Critical Care Unit, Advanced Pediatrics Centre, PGIMER Chandigarh at The Lalit, IT Park, Chandigarh, from 20 to 22 February, 2026. This landmark event brings together leading minds in Pediatric Intensive Care, with a special focus on the evolving world of Mechanical Ventilation, Critical Care practices, and Advanced Life Support systems.

Our theme this year, "Safe, Simple & Sustainable Strategies," underscores a collective commitment to excellence in pediatric critical care—delivering innovation that is practical, impactful, and adaptable to diverse clinical settings.

The scientific program has been thoughtfully curated to blend state-of-the-art updates with hands-on learning, through interactive workshops, high-fidelity simulations, expert panels, and real-world case-based discussions.

Whether you're a seasoned intensivist, an early-career pediatrician, a nurse, therapist, or trainee passionate about critical care—APMVF 2026 has something for everyone. Beyond academic enrichment, it offers a vibrant platform to connect, collaborate, and contribute to the future of care for our most vulnerable patients.

We're also delighted to host you in Chandigarh, India's first planned city and a true confluence of modernity, serenity, and design. Nestled at the foothills of the Shivaliks, Chandigarh offers a refreshing blend of clean green spaces, vibrant culture, and architectural elegance—making it an ideal backdrop for learning and reflection. We hope you'll take time to explore its sights, sounds, and spirit during your visit.

Join us in this celebration of science, compassion, and collaboration. Together, let's explore innovations that are not only technically sound but also resource-sensitive and grounded in everyday realities of the PICU.

We look forward to welcoming you to APMVF 2026—where learning inspires action, and ideas turn into impact.

Warm regards,

Organizing Committee
